ALMA MATER

'Tis with hearts full of pride, dear Alma Mater,
We rise and sing to thee
And pledge to keep thy colors high
Through all the years to be.
To thy name we promise to be loyal,
Ever faithful, ever true;
Roosevelt, to thee our song shall be—
All Hail! Hail! Hail!

ROOSEVELT HIGH SCHOOL

1120 NEHOA STREET • HONOLULU, HAWAII
ANNUAL STUDENT PUBLICATION • VOLUME 32 • 1961-1962

THEME

A hesitant sophomore gazes uncertainly at Roosevelt High School; on Punchbowl a couple contemplates a sprawling Honolulu; two Americans face a cartographer as he studies a map of the western hemisphere; the panorama of the globe fills the eyes of wondering astronauts as they streak across the heavens. In each case the individuals ponder over a physical perspective that broadens with every succeeding step. The individual experiences a similar metamorphosis in his mental outlook of life. As the body grows, so does the mind in comprehension, in logic, and in judgment.

Parallel to this geographical and psychological expansion is the progress of each individual. As we grow more mature, our scope encompasses the entire sphere. Through its theme on growth the 1962 ROUND UP correlates cartographical expansion with a student's life. The many maps which appear in ascending levels of dimension signify the development of the individual. With each year at Roosevelt the student progresses toward the completion of his blueprint of life, and as graduation approaches, the whole world opens wide its broad doors of fortune.

A vast treasure of opportunity awaits the eager, young explorer, and the compass, instrument of purpose and direction, guides the way to feats unmatched, challenges unmet, and frontiers uncrossed.

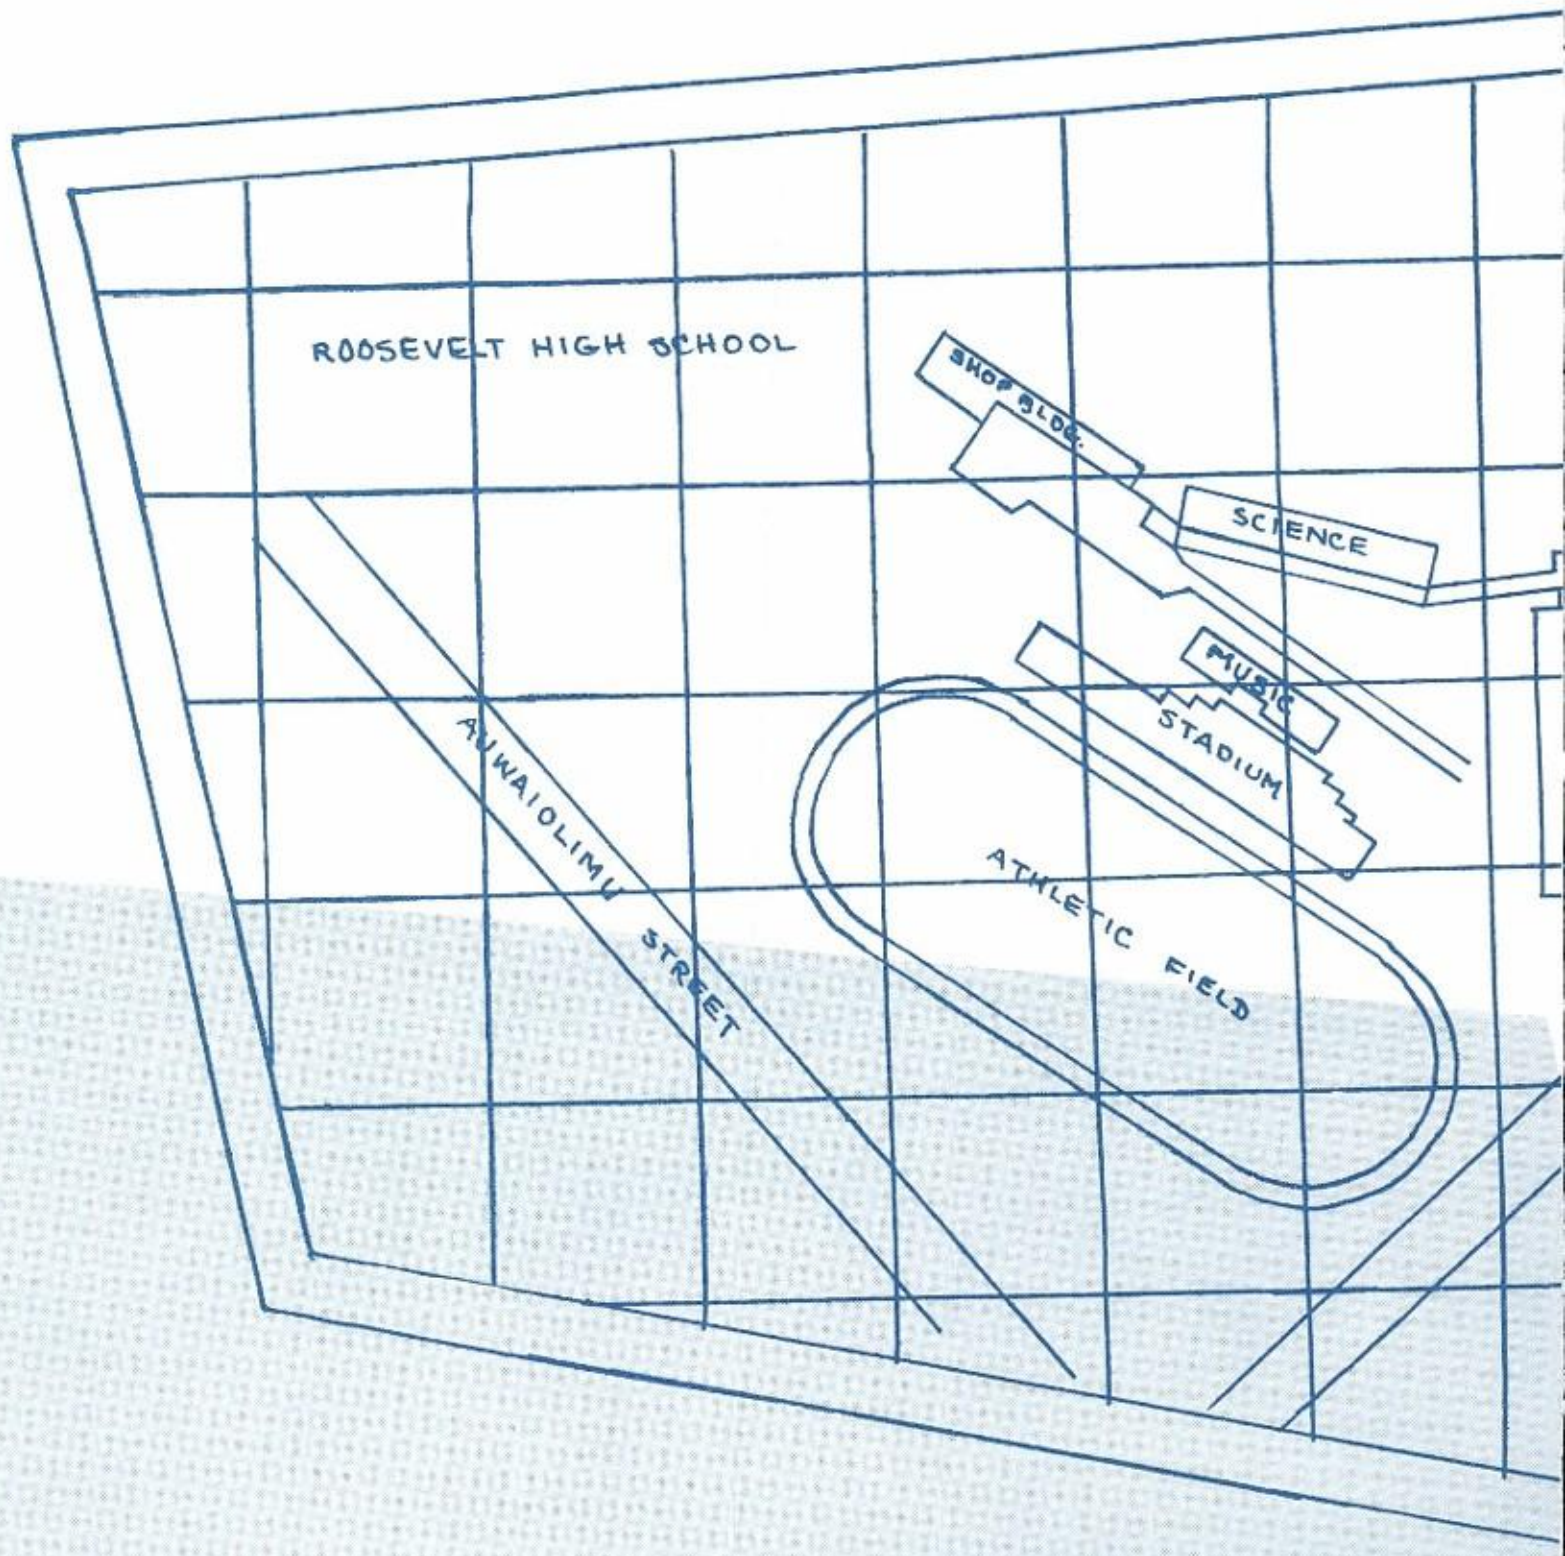
ADMINISTRATION



The Roosevelt blueprint signifies the basis for higher social and academic growth. The ADMINISTRATION is the core of campus life and the origin of knowledge and experience. With fundamentals they provide we begin our development in perspective.

ADMINISTRATION

Several newcomers were added to the faculty this year, making the total administrative staff of seventy-seven the largest ever. Classrooms hum daily, brought to life by the teachers who set forth and accomplish educational aims by stimulating and challenging the students to think, learn, and produce.

A tremendous task has been placed upon the shoulders of these perceptors. With patience, firmness, and understanding, they conduct orderly classrooms, stimulate class discussions, and supervise canteens and dances. Participation in important community events and accomplishments recognized by awards were a few of their achievements.

Students are encouraged to think realistically; interest and curiosity are instilled in a variety of subjects. Although their professional aim is to inculcate knowledge, Roosevelt's instructors also tend to bring about a spirit of cooperation among the students whether in a classroom, a committee meeting, or a school function.

Because it has so diligently illuminated the footsteps of knowledge with the unwavering lanterns of Teddy's doctrines, the administration has earned the gratitude and respect of the entire student body.

Under the proficient management of Mrs. Kikumi Miyasato, the cafeteria workers produced a balanced meal for each school day. With culinary skill and savory and attractive combinations of food, they whetted appetites. Students, as well as teachers, especially looked forward to holiday menus and were delighted with occasional surprise treats.

Mr. Masakichi Oshiro and his assistant custodians painstakingly performed multitudinal and necessary tasks in repairing classroom equipment and in caring for the campus landscape which demanded perpetual attention. Throughout the school year they effectually performed duties resulting in the excellent upkeep of Roosevelt High School.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

With the primary purpose of strengthening parent-school relationship, officers of the Parent-Teacher Association, led by capable Mr. Kenneth Young, set forth to encounter the many problems of youth and education.

Attendance at various youth conferences and state legislature meetings by some members of the P-TA kept the association informed of diversified approaches for a more effective educational program at Roosevelt High School.

Some results of the P-TA's indefatigable efforts are the Traffic Safety Contest, selection of the outstanding senior, and the addition of teachers on the Executive Board. These results have brought forth a closer realization to a more effective high school program.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Faced with the responsibility of conducting an efficient student government, the Executive Council, headed by president Gary Okamoto and advised by Mrs. Mildred Wakayama, carried out a successful program.

During the 22nd annual Hawaii High School Government Association conference, the council gained profitable information with which to begin the year. Meeting regularly with homeroom representatives, the Executive Council shared its problems and sought their opinions and advice. Problems were discussed and solutions were suggested, thereby facilitating the decisions of the government.

The council diligently selected standing committee members to assist them in the planning of beneficial as well as entertaining functions. Among the successful activities were the Mistletoe Ball, several assemblies, football rallies, and the election of song and cheer leaders. Due to the steadfast participation and cooperation of the student body, it was possible for the Executive Council to sustain a most productive and fruitful year.

ROUND UP

Under the careful supervision of Donald Wong, editor-in-chief, and Mrs. Evelyn Lee, adviser, the determined Round Up staff produced the 1962 edition of Roosevelt's cherished yearbook, a consistent first-place award winner.

Meetings were conducted during the summer to select a theme and a color scheme that would attract and please all. Puzzled juniors, as well as experienced seniors, became familiar with the fundamentals of annual production through weeks of lectures. Thereafter, the junior understudies observed as their senior editors presented detailed information covering the procedures of their individual sections.

The staff soon realized that an outstanding yearbook requires months of concentrated, perpetual labor. Layouts were carefully drawn in order to create the most appealing spreads. Various pictures were scheduled, taken, identified, cropped and pasted. Identifications, captions, and body copy were written and typed. Through the close relationship afforded by the pressing work, understanding and a warm friendship developed among the staff.

The climax of the year was Round Up's annual banquet held in May, when the completed yearbook was viewed for the first time and merit awards and certificates were distributed to staff members and photographers.

KAPU

ON THE COVER

Our world is perpetually developing and progressing. However, the focal point of the world is the individual who also grows physically and mentally with the element of time. The ascending line represents the individual in his interminable search for knowledge. The perfect sphere denotes an important phase of this evolution, the culmination of student achievement at Roosevelt. In the rays surrounding the globe is manifested the diversity of campus life—the physical, scholastic, and social facets that comprise each student's program. The three spirals radiating from the sphere represent the sophomore, junior, and senior years. With each we broaden our horizons, grow in perspective, and increase in importance to the community, the nation, and the world. The points of the compass guide young men and women to unlimited opportunities. Extending into the back cover is the quadrilateral representing the scope of human accomplishment. Unbounded, both are infinite.

Stephanie Chang, Patricia Augustine, Linda Kusuno, and Tanee Hamaishi discuss problems facing the Senior Section while Beverly Kohashi and Cynthia Redd work on layouts.

ROUGH RIDER

A source of pride at Roosevelt High School is the weekly newspaper, the Rough Rider. Through the efforts of the staff, headed by co-editors Susan Ichinose and Russell Loo, the paper has once again maintained the rating of "All-American."

The staff worked unfalteringly so as to be always first with the news. Writing, rewriting, typing, and cropping were omnipresent. The ceaseless production of ingenious quips, "Good Griefs," and countless numbers of informative articles kept every member of the staff alert and well-prepared for any newsworthy occurrence.

This year a circulation drive was initiated and was successfully carried through. As a result, the newspaper's circulation increased to more than eighty-five per cent of the student body. The year 1962 also brought a change in the make-up of pages with the termination of the use of serif heads.

Through the proficient instruction of Mrs. Patricia Palmer, the staff learned skillful methods in publishing a school newspaper of high standards. With top journalistic ratings and the acclaim of avid student and adult readers, the Rough Rider staff was fully repaid for long months of dogged effort.

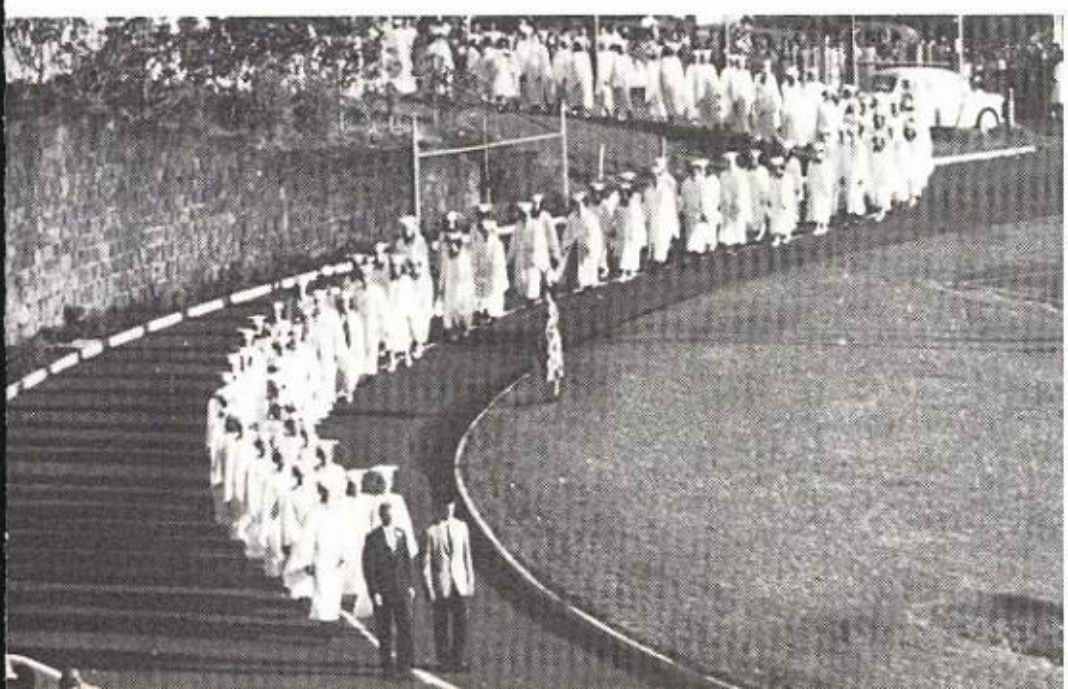
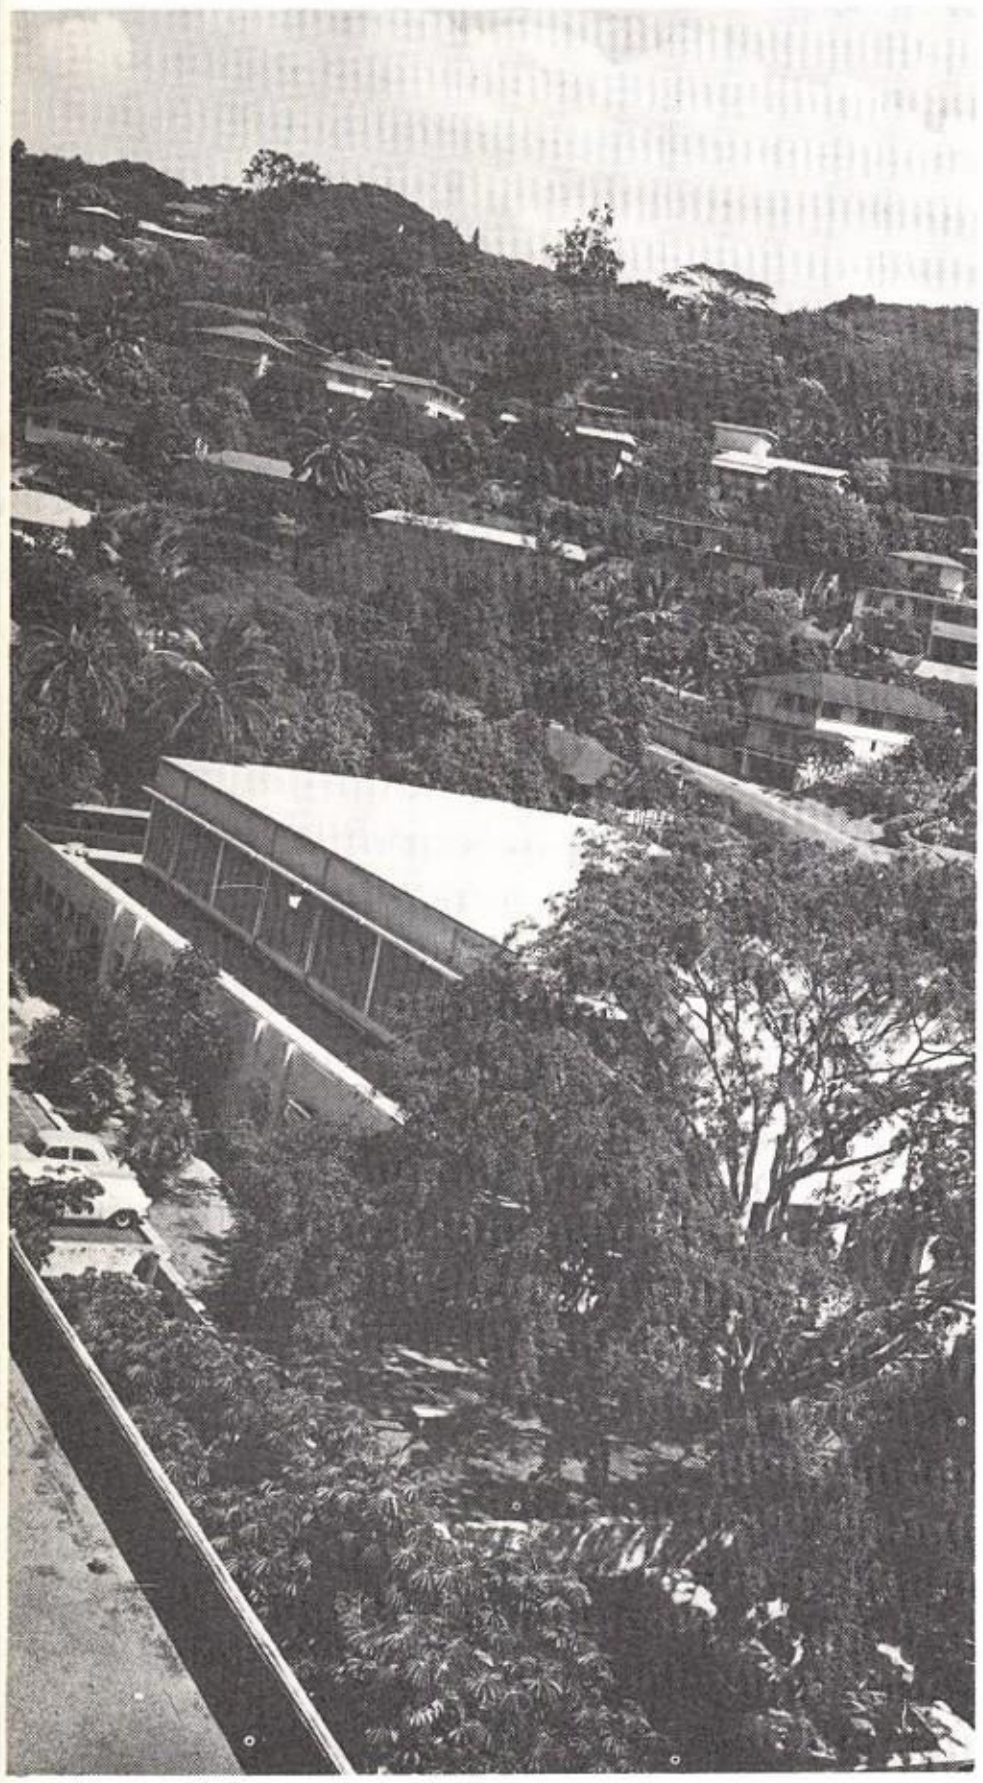
8 Graduation Day
11 Kamehameha Day
12 Installation of Officers
14 Last Day of School

Graduating seniors, attired in white caps and gowns, march majestically to the refrain of "Pomp and Circumstance."



Spirited song and cheer leaders are colorful spots of enthusiasm and sentimental tradition on the autumn football field.



Serving a dual role of utility and beauty, Roosevelt's new gym nestles at the foot of verdant Makiki Heights.

Roosevelt's basketball fans queue up in two lines awaiting entrance into the gymnasium for a week end game.

New Gym, Patio

After years of patient waiting, two additions to the campus solved some of the difficulties encountered by an expanding enrollment.

December witnessed a formal dedication ceremony marking the opening of the city's newest gym. Physical education classes were the first to use it. Begun thirty years ago, it was the first public school gym to be used in the Interscholastic League of Honolulu. During the basketball season, it was the location for two of the eight Interscholastic games held each week end. The first dance to be held there was the student body sock hop, "Twisting Socks."

The cafeteria extension, started during the 1960-1961 school year, was commonly referred to as the senior patio, since it was the exclusive privilege of seniors to lunch there in a pleasant "outdoor" atmosphere. Rapidly incorporated into school activities, it provided a popular study and meeting place for students, clubs, and committees.

Both additions, the gym and senior patio, have proved indispensable to school life at Roosevelt High School.

At the formal dedication, amidst clicking cameras and beaming faces Principal William Wong, Senior Supervising Principal Charles Barrett, and Building Superintendent Tsutomu Izumi cut the symbolic lei, thus opening the new gym to student activities.

Are Hub of Activities

Privileged seniors, pleased with their new exclusive open-air eating accommodations, talk, eat, or just admire the view.

Music Makers

Silvery trombones and deep-toned trumpets led by Mr. Leon Burton herald the auspicious opening of Roosevelt's new gym.

Under the leadership of Mr. Leon Burton, the eighty-five member Roosevelt band contributed melodic variety to school functions. The second annual Music for Moderns was held for the student body in January and two spring concerts were given for the students and the public. The entire band and featured soloists performed at the Music Festival in May. The new white band uniforms, acquired this year, represented three years of diligent work on a variety of projects to raise funds.

By performing for students at Lincoln Elementary and Stevenson Intermediate Schools and by appearing on the "Concert by the Sea" program at Waikiki, Roosevelt's orchestra played its role in the musical community.

CHOIR

Aiming for harmonious excellence, sopranos, tenors, altos, and basses of Roosevelt's A Cappella Choir blended their euphonious voices under the direction of Miss Harriet Kawano, choir director, to produce sounds that were soothing as well as inspiring. Each student gave his full measure of talent, interest, and time to obtain this pleasing musical concoction.

In accordance with the tradition of Christmas concerts, the choir rendered beautiful interpretations of familiar carols for the student body and the members of the community. Another Yule adventure saw select members, dressed in nineteenth century garb, caroling Christmas joy and spirit to the delight of shoppers and salespeople at the Ala Moana Shopping Center.

Two segments of the choir, the boys' Double Quartet and the girls' Double Triple Trio, were called upon for other assignments.

Presentation of the April Spring Concert was the climactic event of a fruitful year.

Excellence Necessitates Arduous

A single unit of disciplined cadets emerged from several hundred disorganized recruits. With the cooperation of the corps, this transformation was executed by Major Charles Costen, Master Sergeants Alfred Walter and Talino Gaison, and Sergeants Julius Cross and Bernard Street. Their untiring efforts resulted in Roosevelt's ROTC being named an honor brigade for the twelfth consecutive year.

Two specialty groups, the Drill Team and the Rifle Team, brought additional glory to Roosevelt. The Drill Team placed first at the Maui Fair Competition; the Rifle Team distinguished itself at the Hawaii State Indoor Championships and the Randolph Hearst, the Army Area Small Bow, and the Honolulu Inter-Scholastic League Matches.

Rallies 'Round

Another perspective of school life was the excitement and fellowship that Riders shared while attending football and basketball games, pep assemblies, and other extra-curricular activities. "Go, Riders! Go!" adequately expressed the spirit and exuberance that filled many scholars during their "unscholarly" hours.

At half time periods of the football games, precision marching and snappy routines marked the appearances of the majorette corps, under the direction of Mrs. Bonnie Adams.

The hub of this excitement seemed to revolve around the eight song and cheer leaders whose presence at every football and basketball game and all pep assemblies established a focal point of school spirit. Their enthusiasm inspired student participation in a variety of colorful songs and cheers and helped to develop school spirit at rallies, games, and assemblies.

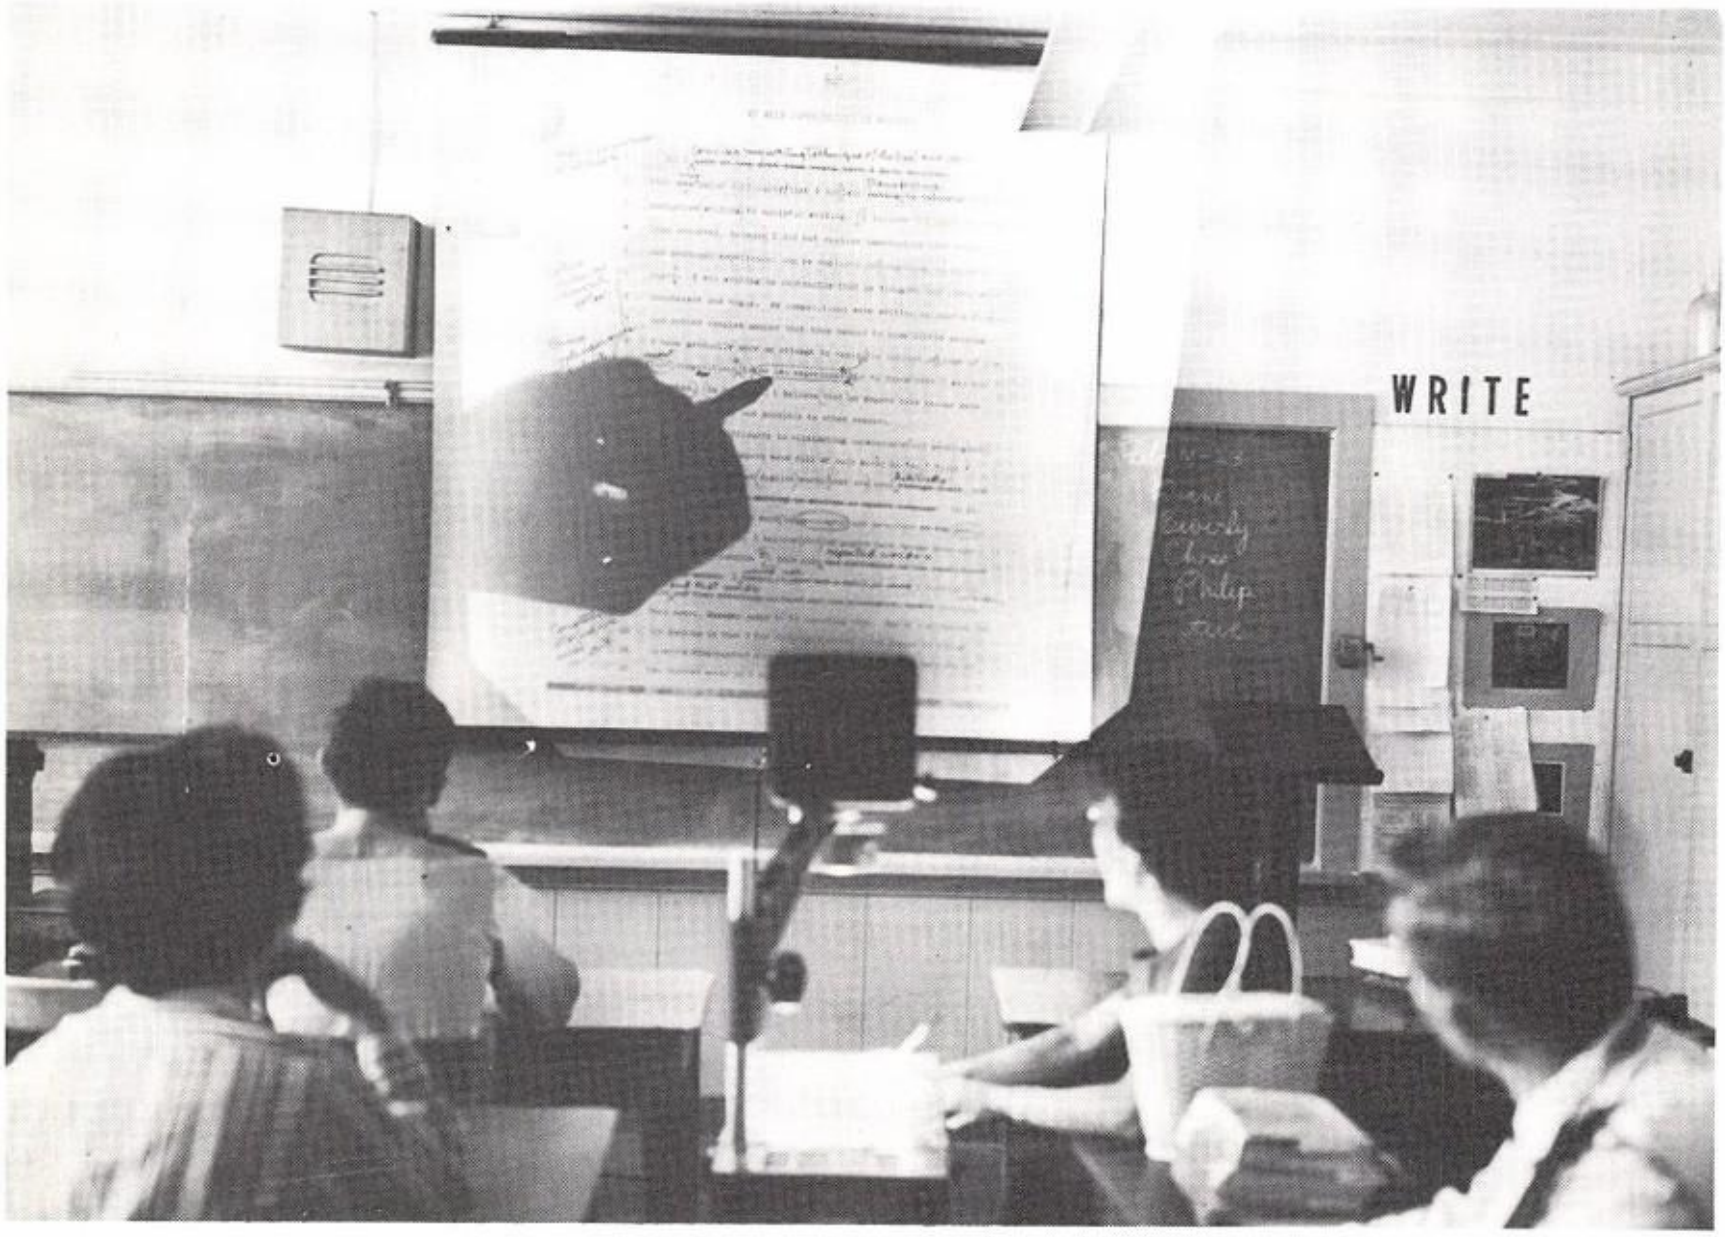
An innovation in teaching at Roosevelt, the magnifying overhead projector, assists Mrs. Suyeko Kiyosaki in instructing her Junior Honors English class on elements and common errors found in student compositions.



Reflecting an increasing interest in the world, Roosevelt students signed up in greater numbers for courses in French, Latin, Japanese, and Spanish. All students participated in the English program. Sophomores reviewed world literature; Juniors, American works; and Seniors, English masterpieces. Scenes from Shakespeare's Macbeth and Hamlet were presented by the Senior Honors English class.

Similarly, sophomores studied world history, while Juniors mulled over their American heritage in U.S. History. Representatives from Roosevelt's American Problems classes took an active part in the Pacific Asian Affairs Council conferences which discussed current world problems and their possible solutions.

Future years will see the knowledge gained from language and history courses become a working, integral part of every individual.

History, Languages

To the amusement of the other Spanish pupils, a blindfolded classmate strikes wildly at the traditional Christmas pinata.

Pointing to a locality on the map, Claire Luke looks askance toward Miss Juanita Urian for confirmation while the remainder of the World History class concentrates on locating additional answers in anticipation for their turn at the board.

A carefully controlled burette enables an accurate titration and reflects the precision which is mandatory in science.

To meet the need for mathematicians and scientists created by the "Atomic Age," Roosevelt initiated a stepped-up science program.

Botany courses joined Horticulture, Zoology, and Biology to round out Roosevelt's series of biological sciences. Students were introduced to the strange world of amoeba, gymnosperm, and coelenterate. In Chemistry and Physics laboratories, pupils were given the opportunity to "rediscover" the laws and principles they had read about in their texts. The annual Roosevelt Science Fair held in February capped the year for science students.

Illinois Math, a four-year program comprising math, algebra, and geometry, made students practice deductive reasoning and practical application. Business math and bookkeeping courses gave a basic background to students planning business careers.

With science and math, students added a milestone to their foundation as future citizens.

Adept Fingers

The broad commercial and manual arts program offered at Roosevelt helped many to lay a background for future careers. Typewriters clacked and fingers flew as prospective secretaries and stenographers perfected techniques of typing and shorthand. College-bound students enrolled in typing, notehand, and shorthand to prepare for arduous hours of note-taking and theme writing. Ambitious future carpenters and engineers worked industriously in the midst of pungent sawdust, heavy rulers, and grinding machines. Tomorrow's homemakers grew adept in the media of fashion and gastronomical creations. The artistically minded found their depth in paints, chalk, and canvases, while amateur dramatists rehearsed tirelessly to present "The Wizard of Oz," highlight of a busy year in dramatics.

Awards in the commercial and industrial arts departments were proof of the students' achievements and development.

Riders heeded the adage "All work and no play make Johnny a dull boy" by attending a multitude of festive dances this year.

The Christmas Season was highlighted by the Mistletoe Ball, which impressively carried out in a blue and silver motif its theme, "Starlit Winterland." January saw proud cadets at the annual Military Ball. February smiled on the Junior-Senior Prom where translucent moons hung from the ceiling to underscore the celestial "Moonglow" theme. March found dance enthusiasts jumping and twisting at the student body "Sock Hop" held in the new gymnasium. April sat down to the Senior Banquet held at the Reef Hotel with teriyaki steak as the entree. May closed the year with the unforgettable Commencement Ball, a night that ended too soon for many seniors.

All the color and gaiety of these events will remain vividly in the memories of those who attended them, long after the flowers and gowns have faded with time.

ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

Athletics at Roosevelt has attained a high measure of success. By sheer determination, the Roosevelt Rough Riders have placed among the top four teams in all four of the major sports. In football, the gridders secured a third place berth; in basketball, the cagers tied for third place with Farrington; the sandlotters won a fourth place; and the cindermen took their eleventh straight Public Schools Track and Field Championship. Exhausting hours of practice paved the way to outstanding performances and glowing victories. Many Rider Sportsmen excelled in their respective contests and received recognition and praise for their individual efforts.

Minor sports, although not as prominent as the major sports, have similar objectives and help to round out the school's athletic schedule. To augment this program, the Athletic Department this year added volleyball as another interscholastic sport.

SENIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

Built around one of the best interior lines in the 1961 Interscholastic League of Honolulu, Roosevelt High School entered the regular prep football season with two impressive victories in pre-season action over Lahainaluna and Baldwin, Maui high schools, by scores of 33-13 and 40-0, respectively.

Roosevelt's Rough Riders opened the season in fine form by defeating St. Louis, only to be suppressed by a powerful Buffanblu team in the Paintbrush Classic. They retaliated by winning the next three against Kaimuki, Iolani, and Kalani. Hopes for a first place tie were shattered by a spirited Warrior unit which eked out a 13-6 win over the Riders. Roosevelt closed the season with victories over McKinley and Farrington, the latter in a thrilling 14-0 upset, securing a 6-2 record and a second place tie with Kamehameha. The Makikians were elected to play in the feature game of the Thanksgiving Doubleheader with Punahou but were trounced by a score of 53-26 before a capacity crowd of 26,000 spectators.

Rough practice sessions every day with their capable mentors, Coach Edmund "Ticky" Vasconsellos and assistants Kai Bong Chung and Johnny Wright, have been the key to the team's success and outstanding position.

Coaches Stanley Chung, Alex Kane, and Charles Kaneshiro forged the Rider Babes into a hard-driving machine. Through teamwork and skill the Babes took second place in the Interscholastic Junior Varsity League.

After tying their first game with St. Louis, the Babes went on to tie two more games and win four others. Their hopes for a first place deadlock with Punahou were smashed when they lost to the Puns in their final game.

SENIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

Coach Stanley Chung displayed his versatility and know-how by molding a wealth of individual talent into a hard-hitting, compact unit. With Abraham Konaaihele's proficient ball handling, Scott Brandon's hook shots, Gale Berengue's steady rebounding, Wallace Miyasaki's long-range shooting, and all-star Glenn Shea's outstanding ability, the Rider unit surprised everyone with a tie for a deserved third place in the Interscholastic League.

Overwhelming determination and fighting drive inspired the Rider quintet to secure five consecutive victories over St. Louis, Kalani, Maryknoll, Farrington, and Mid-Pacific. Elated spirits were insufficient to overcome their age-old rival Punahou, as the team suffered its first defeat in league play at the hands of the eventual champions. Undismayed by this defeat, the enthusiastic Makikians went on to win three of their last four regular games. Entering the Round Robin with eight wins and two losses, the players exhibited spirit and high hopes. However, these ambitions were shattered as victory slipped through their fingers in the three heart-stirring Round Robin games. Nevertheless, the Rider cagers proved exceptional for their quality of constant teamwork and sportsmanship.

JV BASKETBALL

The Rider JV Basketball Team surprised many avid fans with their skill and dexterity. Coach Tony Andrade spent long hours after school working with his team, composed mainly of ninth and tenth graders. Rider fans thrilled to the boys' first two victories in the opening games against St. Louis and Kalani. Three of the four Rider defeats were mere one-basket margins. The novice cagers finished the season by defeating the McKinley squad, thus securing a third place tie in League competition. This promising group shows evidence that next year's varsity will maintain high standards of performance and sportsmanship.

The Rider Babes, coached by Mr. Charles Kaneshiro, won three of the first four games, but were caught in a four-game losing streak. Marked improvement was shown by the Rider nine when they smashed Maryknoll, but their final game with Farrington ended in defeat. The sandlotters captured seventh position in the league.

SENIOR VARSITY BASEBALL

Starting the season with a startling 3-2 victory over defending champion Punahou, the Roosevelt Rough Riders successfully scorched the basepaths to more victories. After the first game the inspired Riders, having lost only to Mid-Pacific in their first five games, e d g e d past Kamehameha, McKinley, and Kaimuki by scores of 10-9, 1-0, and 3-2, respectively.

A mid-season slump cost the sandlotters a chance for the championship as they lost their next four games to St. Louis, Iolani, Farrington, and Kalani.

With a host of talented underclassmen, Coach Alex Kane built a sensational, powerful, well-balanced unit. As the season came to a close, it became evident that Roosevelt had the potential to win a championship.

SENIOR VARSITY TRACK

With an unequaled record of ten straight Public School Championships to their credit, the Rider thinclads aimed toward their eleventh consecutive title. Eight weeks of strenuous practice and four pre-season meets prepared the squad for the "big" test. Roosevelt swept through the Public School Meet with 64 points, 15 more than the runner-up.

Although there were no individual stars on this year's Rider squad at the Public Schools Meet, the team scored heavily in the field events and placed valuable seconds and thirds in the running events. Over-all depth and teamwork proved its essential strengths in the well-deserved victory.

Such achievement in the Public Schools, Cornell, and other meets were largely realized through the tireless efforts and industry of Coaches Edmund Vasconcellos, Walter Thompson, and Stanley Chung.

JV TRACK

Hours of strenuous practice under the direction of Edmund Vasconcellos developed the potential talents of the Junior Varsity spikesters to promising heights. The results of the four pre-season meets in March and April were three wins and a strong second in the other. In the Junior Interscholastic Meet, the Rider team placed a solid third in a field of ten.

GOLF TEAM

With only three returnees in a team of eleven, the Rider divot-diggers swung through the 1962 season. The tireless efforts of Coach Thelma Harris plus diligent practice by the team members again paid dividends for the Riders. The team finished in fourth place, with three wins and five losses.

RIFLE TEAM

Under the watchful eye of SFC Bernard Street, the Makiki sharpshooters prepared for their first Interscholastic rifle match of the 1962 season. Led by team captain Hiram Olsen, the Rider marksmen fired valiantly through the season, but were able to gain only one victory, that against Maryknoll, in their six meets.

BOYS' TENNIS

Batting their way through a rugged season, the Boys' Tennis Team copped fourth place in the Interscholastic League. Sporting four outstanding returning lettermen, the boys built a stalwart team, but one that was not expected to place high in the League. Under the experienced mentorship of Miss Elizabeth Kauka, the boys improved their techniques and scores as the season progressed but lost their last two games with Kamehameha and Mid-Pacific high schools, leaving the fourth place open for the Makikians. Showing skilled ball control and sportsmanship, they ended the season with a commendable record.

GIRLS' TENNIS

Competing in an unpredictable season, the Girls' Tennis Team dropped many games to their skilled opponents. Countless hours of practice under the expert scrutiny of Miss Elizabeth Kauka benefited their performances, enabling them to overpower Maryknoll with a score of 4-1 and McKinley, 3-2. Despite disappointing scores in other games, the girls managed to secure the fifth place berth in the Interscholastic League. Aulani Ching rated first runner-up as Miss Tennis at the Annual Field Day sponsored by the Punahou Tennis Club. Captain of the team, Sherry Loo, is considered one of the outstanding players in the state.

GIRLS' SWIMMING

Splash! Another member of Roosevelt's Girls' Swimming Team dove into the icy water. Every day after school twelve Roosevelt girls spent ninety exhausting minutes practicing in the Young Buddhists Association pool. Sparked by the youth and vigor of Coach Douglas Watabu, the girls turned out for daily practice despite the consequences of wet hair and bloodshot eyes. Once the season had begun, the Rider acquamaids were plagued by duel meets every week. Losing only to Punahou and Farrington, the spirited members of the group stroked their way through many lop-sided victories to place third in unofficial League standings.

BOYS' SWIMMING

Captain Gary Bisho led the Rider aquamen through weekly duel meets which began with an overwhelming victory over University High. The mermen's daily practice, conducted under the tutelage of Coach Douglas Watabu, included stroking, kicking, and sprinting. They monotonously swam lap after lap in the YBA pool, finally emerging tired and shivering. With only seven returning lettermen, the boys' spirit was undaunted even against larger teams. Beginning the season with a victory seemed to be a good omen for the boys for they were defeated by only three schools. A fine season came to a close as the Riders trampled Kalani.

GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

As one of the eight teams in the newly formed interscholastic league, the Girls' Volleyball Team started off the season by winning its first two games. Bowing only to the two top teams by slim margins, the volleyball girls won many decisive victories. Height and skill, daily practice, and the guidance of Miss Elizabeth Kauka helped the team jump to a smashing third place in league standings.

BOYS' VOLLEYBALL

With enthusiasm and a "never-say-die" spirit, the Boys' Volleyball Team forged their way into a fifth place berth. After losing to their first four opponents, the boys rallied to win the remaining four games. Marked improvement was evident with each succeeding game. The team learned the mechanics of volleyball as well as good sportsmanship under the experienced coaching of Miss Elizabeth Kauka.

Under the leadership of its officers and adviser, Mr. Shigeo Ushiro, the members improved their attacking and defensive movements by playing against each other every week. Besides participating in other tournaments, the club sponsored a State High School Championship at Roosevelt in which they pitted their skill and knowledge against other prep teams and placed first.

NIGHTINGALES

Conspicuous in their attractive aqua and white Junior Aide uniforms, the Roosevelt Nightingales volunteered their personal services to Roosevelt, to hospitals, and to various service organizations in order to be fully acquainted with all fields of health work. Through careful planning with their adviser, Mrs. Hildred Sanborne, the Nightingales' activities were aimed toward helping the members formulate decisions about professional or practical nursing as a worthwhile career.

HUI KOKUA

Service to others, to the school, and to the community was the aim of the Hui Kokua Club composed of girls who willingly gave up much time to fulfill their goal. Their year's activities included the making of hospital tray favors, distribution of Christmas cards, exhibits for the school's showcases, and the collection of canned goods for the needy at Thanksgiving. Guiding them in their endeavors were their responsible officers and their competent adviser, Miss Marian Kiuchi.

CHANTELLS

To participate in various services to the school and to the community was the main purpose of the Chantells, ably advised by Miss Naomi Fike. One of their most effective projects was the improving of Roosevelt's landscape with the planting of trees and shrubs. The members also showed their yuletide spirit by volunteering to ring bells for the Salvation Army Christmas Kettle project. Additional activities included socials and a banquet which ended their fulfilling year.

USHERETTES

Just a friendly greeting such as "Good evening, will you please follow me?" from a charming usherette added to the success of the many theatrical productions and symphonies at which these senior girls ushered. They were often commended for their efficiency in seating people, tact in awkward situations, and general ability to serve others well.

Offering helpful hints to the Usherettes at community functions was their capable superviser, Miss Hortense Schwallie.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Meritorious Rough Riders gained recognition for their superior scholastic achievement through the newly-formed National Honor Society. Eligibility for membership at Roosevelt was based on a minimum grade-point average of 3.5, service, character, and leadership.

Directed in their activities by their adviser, Mrs. Mildred Liu, the elite ten sought to create enthusiasm for scholarship, promote worthy leadership, and encourage the development of character in Roosevelt students.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Advancing jounalistic standards by promoting a high code of ethics, clear thinking, and forceful writing, the Theodore Roosevelt Chapter of the Quill and Scroll International Honorary Society for High School Journalists began its year with a humorous initiation of its neophytes. Advisers Mrs. Evelyn Lee and Mrs. Patricia Palmer selected members on the basis of scholastic achievement and outstanding work in publications. Club pins and awards were given to prominent journalists.

DEBATE SOCIETY

Singling out an analyzed proposition, exploring the issue, presenting the evidence, and arguing in the rebuttal are part of the organized debates given in an unyielding form by members of the Roosevelt Debate Society. By sponsoring a Debate Tournament in March and by participating in speech activities, the members acquired qualities of good citizenship, leadership, and organized thinking. Aiding these debaters in achieving their goals was their experienced adviser, Mrs. Pansy Heyer.

Searching, seeking, examining, and inquiring about scientific advancements were part of the worthwhile educational program carried out by the Ake Akamai Science Club. The officers and Mr. Jacob Thomas, adviser, shaped the club's program to fulfill its purpose and aim, "Scientia Cresere," meaning to increase knowledge. Excursions, lectures, and sponsorship of the Roosevelt Science Fair were its major activities. A picnic, which provided a day of fun, closed a successful year.

Classroom Teachings

LES CAUSEURS

Under the guidance of adviser Mrs. Fay Midkiff, Les Causeurs enjoyed a banner year learning more about the French language and customs. "Twelfth Night," their banquet, was the first event in which all club members gathered for an evening of fun and fellowship. Highlighting their evening were French games and the crowning of a king and queen.

A busy agenda included the publication of their traditional newspaper, French displays, and celebration of French Day.

EL ROJO Y ORO

El Rojo Y Oro, "The Red and Gold," introduced a new idea this year—corresponding with Mexican students their own age. Through this unique plan the members enlarged their knowledge of Spanish and Mexican mores and languages. Aimed at improving the Spanish reading and writing abilities of these students, this project was earnestly pursued.

Under the adviserships of Mr. Paul Izawa, members of El Rojo Y Oro climaxed an effective club year with a Spanish banquet.

GAA

United in team spirit and cooperation, the members of the Girls' Athletic Association enthusiastically conditioned themselves for future competition. Dressed in yellow shirts and white bermudas, the GAA industriously practiced on Roosevelt's basketball court. Volleyball, basketball, and softball were the main categories in which the GAA participated. Guiding the club was Mrs. Bonnie Adams, who stimulated interest in sports by improving sportsmanship and athletic skills.

STAGE CREW

Responsible for stage, light, and sound equipment, assiduous members of the Stage Crew performed their duties in making various functions a success. Under the guidance of Mrs. Grace McAlister, these boys supplied all the technical assistance required at pep rallies, theatrical productions, and assemblies.

During their excursions to other stage sets, the Stage Crew gained ideas in building more attractive sets for the plays presented by the Roosevelt dramatic class.

Stage Crew members Eldon Fry, Stephen Mori, and James Forde receive, by phone, directions before the curtain rises.

PROJECTIONISTS

Able projectionists were given many opportunities to increase their knowledge in the field of audio-visual work by participating in field trips, discussions, demonstrations, and listening to occasional guest speakers. Their dexterity and capabilities were displayed when they contributed their services to the school by operating the projectors for various classes. Their agenda was interestingly planned by their skilled officers and their helpful adviser, Mr. William Shook.

ROOSEVELT LITTLE THEATER

One of the many school organizations which offered opportunities for fun, excitement, and practical training was the Roosevelt Little Theater. After weeks of rehearsals to instill familiarity with the actors' parts, the action of the play, and the spirit of drama, the year was successfully opened with The Wizard of Oz. Directed by dramatics instructor Mrs. Grace McAlister, this club revealed the versatile abilities of its members in dramatic acting, make-up application, and costume designing.

NATIONAL THESPIAN SOCIETY

To establish and advance standards of excellence and to establish an active interest in all phases of Dramatic Arts were the purposes of Troop 1400 of the National Thespian Sciety advised by Mrs. Grace McAlister. In addition to their annual children's play, the group produced an unusual musical, Smokey Mountains. Newly elected members astounded teachers and amused students when they appeared dressed as famous personages of the theater during an all-day initiation.

ASSOCIATED CLUBS

Utilizing the combined strength of efficient officers, a well-planned program, and enthusiastic members, the YMCA, the YWCA, the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, and the Young Buddhist Association clubs offered a year of fellowship and learning. Comprising the agenda at some of their meetings were the planning of service projects, forums, religious activities, and interesting excursions.

Working toward both spiritual and social enrichment in their lives were part of the aims of the Roosevelt Christian Fellowship, the Crystallites, and Jentells Sangha clubs. Contributing to the school spirit were the energetic members of the Y-Teen, Tri-Hi-Y, and Hi-Y clubs. The Desirees, Les Mecques, and La Petite Fleur inspired teamwork by sorting Christmas cards, while the members of the Les Enchantes, Regents, and Continentals supported the Homecoming game by participating in the colorful annual carcade.

These motivating activities and a full program of fellowship, scholarship, service, and religion gave the teen-aged members a chance to display their competence and leadership.

SOPHOMORES

As their first year of high school loomed, wondering Sophomores eagerly anticipated a Roosevelt of valuable opportunities and unique experiences. High school was to these Sophomores as the New World was to European explorers, a vast hemisphere to be discovered and developed.

With fresh minds and new ideals the Sophomores optimistically met the challenges of a varied academic schedule, six daily periods of intensive study, stimulating projects, and stiff semester examinations. Educational assemblies, spirited rallies, dances, club activities, student government election, and exciting sports events balanced the scholastic program. The Howdy Doody Hop and the Sophomore Mixer highlighted the sophomore's school year.

By participating in high school work and fun, these students established a firm foundation at Roosevelt. Now the Sophomores anxiously seek new frontiers, their junior and senior years. Securely founded, these progressive pioneers forge ahead, meeting the competitive standards of high school life.

Similar to the practically unlimited exploration of the Western Hemisphere, education has become a living segment of the determined Juniors. They have continued to master academic difficulties and to reap the benefits of an enriching scholastic program.

Supplementing their concentrated schedule, the Juniors have participated in many oratorical and essay contests. The extremely competitive National Merit Scholarship Test and College Board Entrance Exam were memorable steps toward higher education. Besides lesson assignments, public-spirited Junior boys willingly met traffic duty, and Junior girls ably carried out hall supervision.

To honor the Seniors, groups of Juniors planned and held the Junior-Senior Prom. At graduation, Juniors comprised the decorations committee and served as ushers and usherettes during the ceremony.

With two years of discovery behind them, enterprising Juniors lead the way to new educational frontiers. Now, looking hopefully toward the future, the Juniors anticipate a senior year of further accomplishment.

Socially We Progress

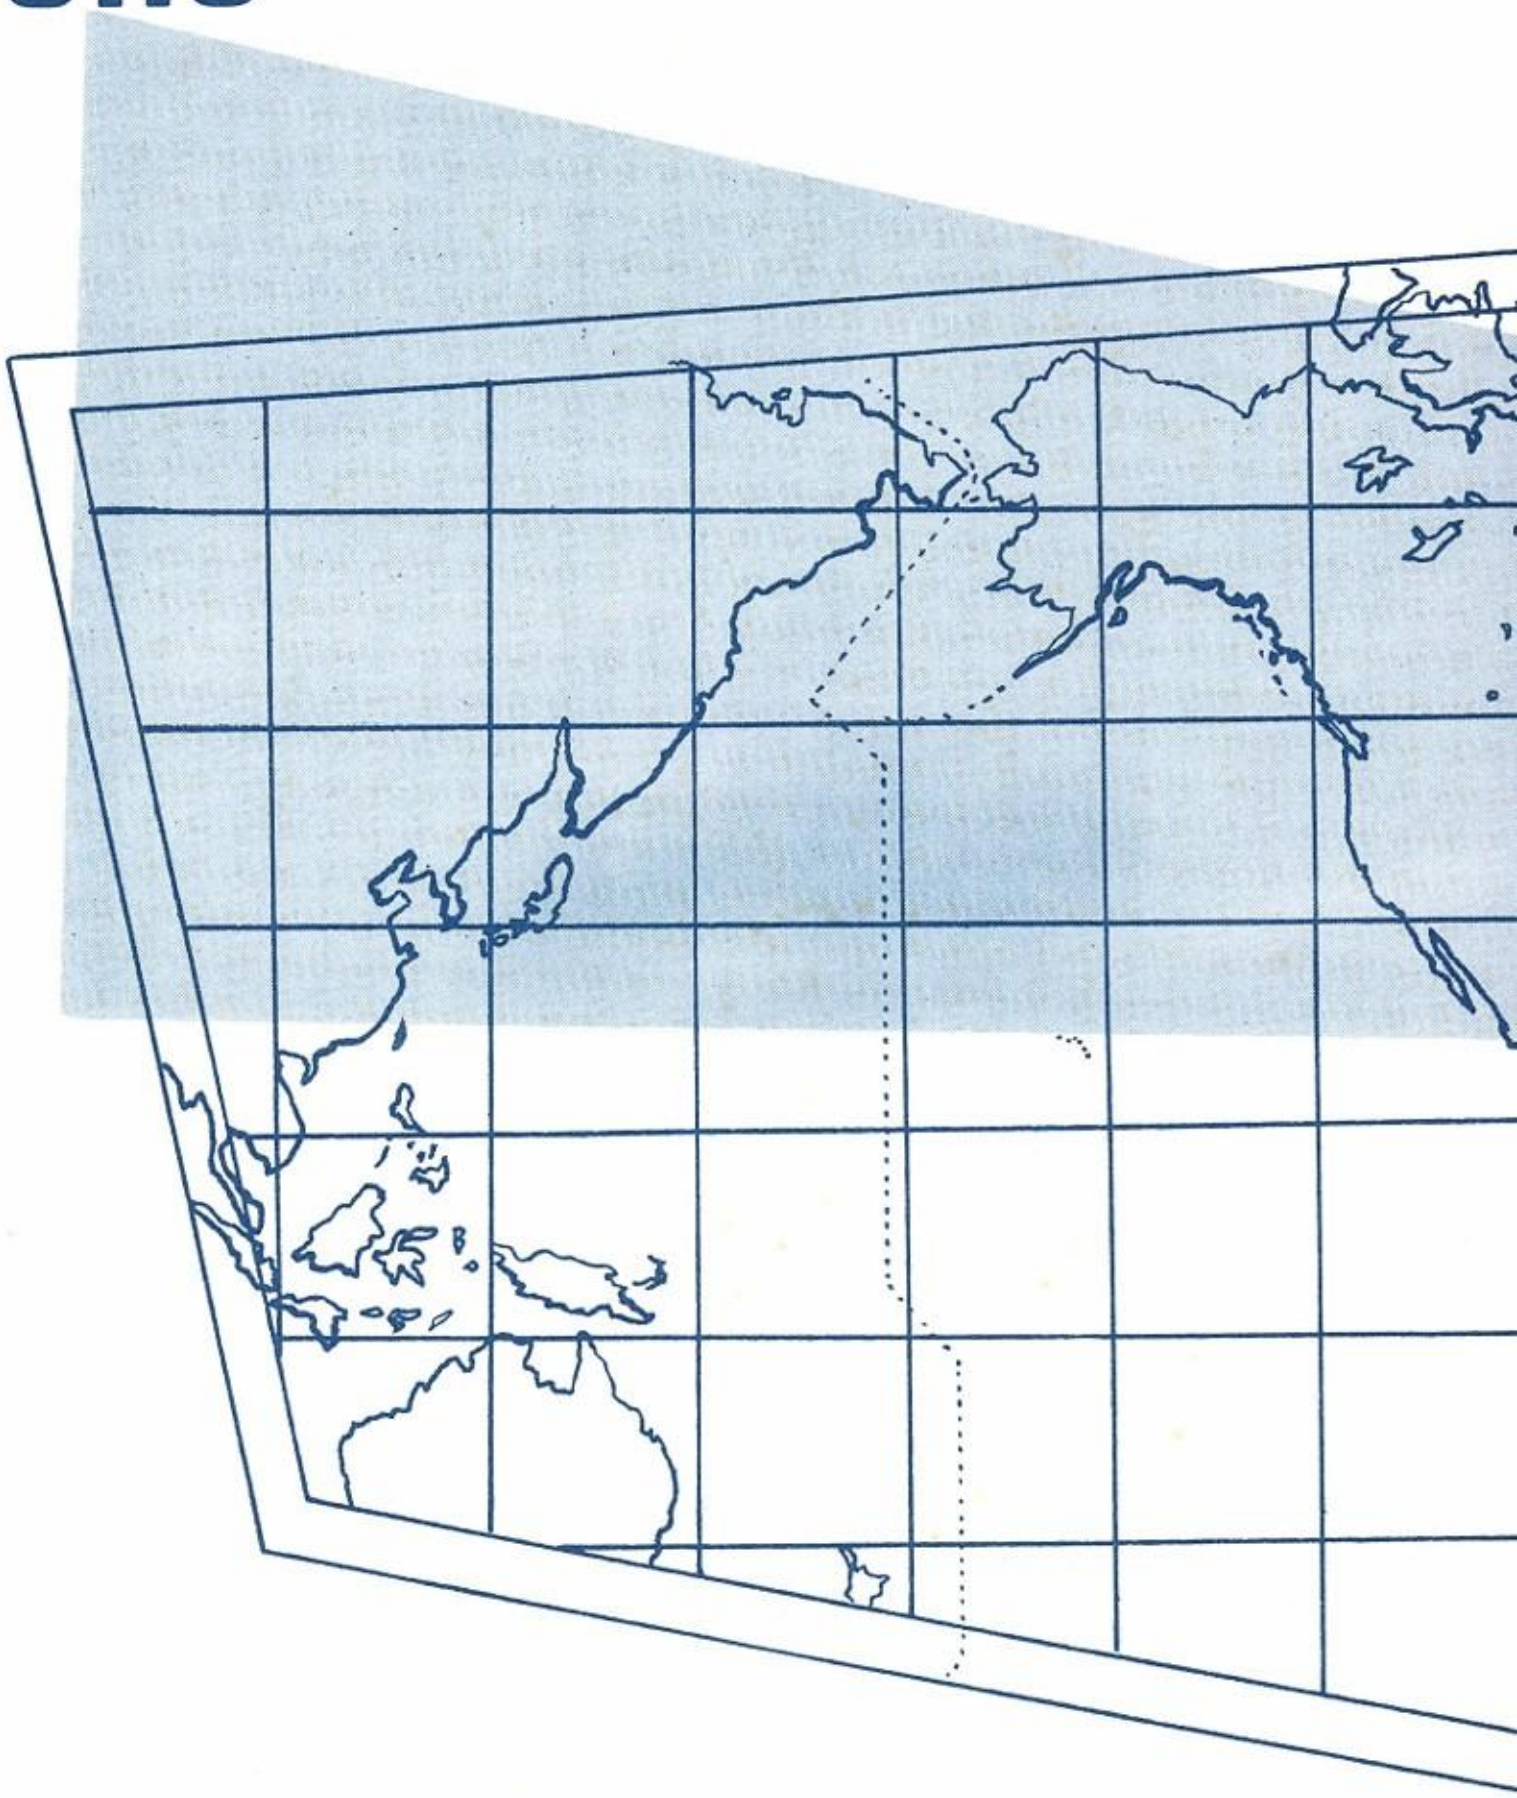
SENIORS



With the culmination of scholastic endeavor at Roosevelt High School, the SENIORS enter the world seeking the highest goals of human existence. They go forth with their perspective encompassing the globe, and their aspirations reaching into infinitude.

SENIORS

Education and time have expanded the scopes of Roosevelt High School's Seniors. Now standing on the threshold of life, they are finally prepared to face the future.

During the past three years the graduates met and overcame many obstacles, resulting in profitable experiences which led to a better understanding of the world and its problems, the formulation of more judicious philosophies of life, and a widening of interests. The rewarding status as Seniors was eventually achieved with the guidance of interested teachers, hours of tedious work, and participation in numerous activities.

This year, besides providing pleasant diversions from school work, the Commencement Ball, senior banquet, and graduation preparations offered the graduates opportunities for the interweaving of firmer friendships.

Matured by experience and knowledge, the Seniors leave Roosevelt with a perspective broad enough to challenge future frontiers. They are now better qualified to meet the demands and requisites of our society, our country, and our world.

Mata a'murasho (see you soon)
after vacation,
Mike

Al,

It being great knowing a guy who blames people for stealing pencils. Hurt your going to be a senior so study hard and stop laughing (Only Kidding). Hope you be going to Kaneohe because you're top rate engineer — you in the future. will be able to get your Good Luck and God Bless. that way.

Dale Always,

Eugene

Alfred —

Keep gambling but don't get caught. Tell me when you make your million — but if don't it that you will be able to get it playing match or no match. Keep studying and being a top rate engineer — you will be able to get your million for sure that way.

AN ECHOED THOUGHT

Let the great wide world spin forever down the ringing grooves of change.
—Alfred, Lord Tennyson
